The Options Of Proposition 2½ Will Be Theme For 1982

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover will begin the new year with a new town manager: At 9 a.m. Monday, Kenneth R. Mahony will be sworn in as town manager in the Town Hall conference room.

Contacted recently at his City Hall office in Passaic, N.J., where he is finishing out his days as city manager, Mahony declined to predict what 1982 might hold for Andover, reserving comment on issues facing the town until he is on the scene.

But Finance and Budget Director Tony Torrisi, who has acted as town manager since Jared S.A. Clark resigned last June, recently offered his thoughts on what the coming year has in store for the community.

Although it is "still too early to tell" what next year's town meeting issues will be, the possibility of modifying Proposition 2½ with home rule action is certain to be one issue, Torrisi indicated.

Voters may have several options for changing the tax-cutting law — excluding growth or debt service from the two and one-half percent levy limit, for example — but what those options will be are still unclear, depending on legislative action.

The "uncertainty" surrounding 2½'s effect on the town next year is causing "frustration" for town officials and department heads struggling to prepare the fiscal 1983 budget, he noted.

"Losing control of your own direction creates frustration. We're not sure what alternatives we're going to have to deal with 2½ — and some alternatives would

Pole Hill Lots Mortgaged; Planners Call It 'Low Blow'

A Planning Board public hearing called so the planners could consider requiring modifications to plans for the Pole Hill subdivision ended before it began Tuesday night, with a surprise announcement from the developer's attorney.

Andover Atty. Reginald Marden, representing Pole Hill developer Arthur Kalogianis of TDJ Development Corp., told the planners no modifications could be made to the plans, approved by the board last August, because lots have been mortgaged to the Arlington Trust Bank.

Approved subdivision plans can not be modified after lots have been sold or mortgaged, Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore explained Wednesday. The public hearing was therefore "a washout," he said.

It was not clear how many of the 69 subdivision lots have been mortgaged, or when they were mortgaged, Gilmore said. Marden could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

The planners considered Marden's last-minute announcement "a low blow," Gilmore added, because plans for the public hearing were announced Dec. 8, and the attorney apparently "had known for some time" that lots had been mortgaged.

Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold, district conservationist Robert Morehouse of the Soil Conservation Service in Littleton, and Virginia Hammond of the Conservation Commission were on hand for the hearing, along with about 15 Ballardvale residents, the director said.

The planners had hoped to take a closer look at potential soil erosion and sedimentation problems in the proposed development — potential problems that were not addressed during their approval of the definitive plans last summer. The board may require modifications to an approved plan if new information later becomes available, Gilmore said.

The potential problems came to light during the Conservation Commission's review of the plans earlier this month. The commission's order of conditions requires the developer to redesign two cul-de-sacs — eliminating some house lots — to protect wetlands near the Shawsheen River.

But state inspectors from the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) viewed the subdivision site Monday afternoon, Gilmore said, and indicated that they may overrule the ConComm's order, allowing the subdivision to be built as originally planned.

However, there is still some chance the developer may agree to make changes in his plans, Gilmore said. The director and Community Development staffers were scheduled to meet informally this morning in Marden's office with the attorney, Kalogianis' engineer Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins, conservation commission Chairman Robert Pustell, planning board Chairman David Gravalles, and Morehouse.

The "Waterford Place" development has been controversial since it was first proposed, with Ballardvale residents opposed to building on the scenic hill — one of the last open areas in the Vale.

Annual town meeting authorized the town to negotiate with Kalogianis to swap the hill for a smaller lot of town-owned land, plus additional compensation, but those negotiations recently broke down. The developer has started clearing trees and removing earth from the hill.

Study Of Merrimack Approved

Congressman Nicholas Mavroules (D-Peabody) was advised today by the U. S. Department of the Interior that pursuant to his request of June 17, 1981 the National Park Service will conduct a technical assistance study of the Merrimack River area.

According to the Congressman, "Interior reviewed several potential projects and decided that the public access study and master plan would be appropriate tasks for the Park Service to undertake."

In addition, the Congressman said the Merrimack River Watershed Council, which will be working in tandem with the National Park Service, would be considering a project dealing with "river protection strategies."

"Using the Comprehensive River Protection Strategy as a guide," the U. S. Representative said, "a project could focus on the development and initiation of conservation implementation strategies for specific river planning units. Emphasis could be placed on the use of other than fee acquisition techniques, such as easements, bargain sales, land exchanges, limited development land subdivisions and the like."

And, the Congressman continued, "There will also be 'resource significance assessment.' By that I mean assisting in the comparative survey of the natural, physical and social significance of the Merrimack River area. The purpose of this survey would be to assess what role, if any, is appropriate for the federal government in the conservation of this river. I would expect this portion of the assistance to require a minimal amount of time."

The effort is expected to begin in the spring of 1982.

The Egyptians were among the first to use the fragrance of flowers for perfume. Flowers or spices were steeped in animal fat that was molded into cones. As a cone melted, the fragrance was released, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

Who qualifies for an IRA?

Everyone.

That's right. Because of recent federal legislation, on January 1, 1982 everyone qualifies for an Individual Retirement Account. Even if you're already participating in a company retirement plan. And an IRA at First Essex Savings Bank is a safe, sure way to save for your retirement years.

What makes an IRA an especially good investment is you don't have to wait until the day you retire to enjoy it. That's because you can deduct annual IRA deposits from your federal income taxes. And here's more good news. On January 1, the limit for these tax-exempt deposits will be $2,000 a year or 100% of earned income (whichever is less). A married person with a non-working spouse will be able to deposit up to $2250. And if both you and your spouse are employed, the new IRA regulations allow you to deposit up to $4,000 and deduct this amount from your joint federal tax return.

Keep in mind these are maximum deposits — you can invest less in an IRA if you want.

At First Essex, we have a number of ways for you to invest in an IRA. (And if you're self-employed, our Keogh Plans are for you.) No matter which one you choose, your money will earn a high rate of interest — interest that's tax-free until the day you retire. A day when your income and tax rate will be a lot lower than it probably is today.

For more information about the many benefits of an Individual Retirement Plan or Keogh Plan, come to First Essex Savings Bank.

Contributions (up to the legal limits) are deductible for Federal Income Tax purposes. However, contributions are not deductible from Massachusetts Income Tax.

All deposits are insured in full under Massachusetts law.

Self-employed.?. You deserve a tax break.

Open a Keogh Account with Andover Bank before Dec. 31 and you can deduct up to $7,500 from your 1981 taxable income.

With Keogh Plans, the federal government has created a special tax shelter for the self-employed.

A Keogh Plan allows you to deduct up to $7,500 or 15% of your 1981 income, whichever is less. Effective January 1, 1982, self-employed individuals will be able to deduct up to $15,000 from 1982 earned income.

Not only will you get a tax break now, but you'll also be saving for your retirement and earning a high yield on your savings in a fully insured certificate with Andover Bank.

And both principal and interest in a Keogh Plan are free from federal taxes until you retire. Interest paid on Keogh Plans is free from state income taxes until you retire.

There's still time to take advantage of the Keogh Program and have it count toward your 1981 taxes. All you need do is stop into any office of Andover Bank and open your Keogh before December 31, 1981. And once your account is established you have until April 15, 1982 to make contributions and have them count toward 1981 taxes.

But don't wait until December 31 to open your Keogh. Do it today. If you're self-employed, you deserve a tax break.

Selectmen Support Commission Overrule Of Town Meeting

The selectmen have voted to support 15 Whispering Pines Way residents in their effort to have the county commissioners overrule an "unreasonable" town meeting vote that rejected their street as a public way.

Four board members voted unanimously Monday night to send a letter to the county commissioners supporting the Whispering Pines residents' petition to have town meeting's vote overturned. (Selectman Susan Poore was absent.)

The commissioners are scheduled to hold a final hearing on the street acceptance Jan. 5, but will not be required to announce their decision at that time.

Both the selectmen and the Planning Board recommended that town meeting accept Whispering Pines Way as a public way during annual town meeting. But voters rejected the street with a 187-180 vote (and with a slightly larger margin on a recount) after abutter John Doyle of 40 Reservation Road argued against the acceptance.

Doyle said that power lines have been erected on his property, and that trees have been cut from his property and snow is plowed onto his land, because the paved roadway is not centered in the right of way. The Planning Board waived the requirement to center the pavement when the subdivision was built 14 years ago.

Town officials maintain that Doyle's complaints can be settled with the power companies, and should have no bearing on the street acceptance.

Andover Atty. Andrew Caffrey, Jr., who filed the petition with the county commissioners on behalf of the Whispering Pines residents he represented at town meeting, appeared before the selectmen Monday night to seek their support.

If the petition is unsuccessful, Caffrey told the board, the street acceptance will turn up on the annual town meeting warrant once again this year, "and we will hear the same issues, and deal with the same personalities, in another lengthy hearing." (This year, he added, he would be "better prepared" to rebut Doyle's arguments.)

Selectman Donn Byrne said he would be "perfectly willing to support the petitioners' request. This was decided not on the issues, but on conflicts that go back 15 years — it should have been accepted, and I hope the commissioners overrule town meeting."

Chairman Norma Gammon said that although she would "stick by" the board's support for the street acceptance, "I don't like having the county commissioners telling the town what to do. I feel very strongly that my first vote was the vote I'd have to give now also — but I don't like it."

Jerry Silverman said town officials should make "every effort to alleviate" Doyle's problems by seeing that the electric and telephone companies remove their power lines from Doyle's property.

Public Works Director Bob McQuade said the companies are willing to move their lines, at no expense to the town, but will need Doyle's permission to trespass on his land to do so. The lines were erected on Doyle's land because the power companies mistakenly assumed the pavement was centered, he explained.

That fact that the pavement is not centered will not increase the cost of maintaining the street for the town if the street is accepted as a public way, the DPW director added.

Doyle was present Monday night, but did not offer any comments to the board.

Donal Coleman of High Street, who was present to discuss another subject, told the selectmen it would be "poor precedent" to ask the county to overrule a town meeting decision, because town meeting acts as the town's legislative body.

At Coleman's urging, the selectmen agreed to point out in their letter to the county commissioners that town meeting voted against the street acceptance. That information, Coleman said, should be added as "a courtesy to town meeting."

Permits Approved

In their role as sewer commissioners, the selectmen Monday night approved one sewer extension, and four sewer connections.

The board voted to approve a sewer extension from an existing manhole located at Crescent Drive and High Street, to service Lot 1 and Lot 2 at 173 High St.

And they voted in favor of sewer connections for the Andover High School renovation project, Subdivision Lot 69 Tewksbury St., and Lots 1 and 2 at 173 High Street.

Those requests were approved by the Board of Health. However, no work will be done until spring, and Public Works department approval will be required at that time.

The first state legislation requiring factory inspections was in Massachusetts in 1879.

Looking Back

Administrative Changes, Industry Growth Made '81 Adventurous

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The past year has not been a quiet one for Andover.

It was a year that saw the departure of a generally well-respected town manager and a complicated search for a new one, the resignation of a Community Development and Planning director amid some controversy, a hard-fought vote in favor of industrial growth at annual town meeting.

Along with an assortment of other issues that aroused strong emotions among townspeople: revaluation, gypsy moths, cable television.

Finance and Budget Director Tony Torrisi has been sitting in the town manager's seat for the past six months, since former manager Jared S.A. Clark resigned to accept a position with IBM. The acting manager shared his perspective on 1981 during a recent interview at Town Hall.

"Turnover is always disappointing," Torrisi said. "We had the loss of a number of people during the last year — not only the manager and Rhys (former Community Development and Planning Director Rhys Kear), but also the building inspector, environmental affairs coordinator, some engineers."

"I'm a little concerned, in the long run, about the town's ability to retain good people," he added. "I think Proposition 2½ has stimulated thoughts of career changes."

When times are bad, public employees are often made the "scapegoat," he explained. "It's fairly easy to take frustrations out on that group that's in the fishbowl." Torrisi added that some portion of public employees' "image problem" may be "merited — but the majority is not."

The revaluation of all town property has been one of the year's "big stories," he commented. "There are some negative connotations — tax bills may be up. But on the positive side, we will have equity — it does attempt to equalize the burden."

The "disparity" between land and building values sparked the greatest concern among residents when they received their revaluation notices, he said. Torrisi pointed out that land values are rising more rapidly than building values, and that land had never been assessed at its true value in Andover.

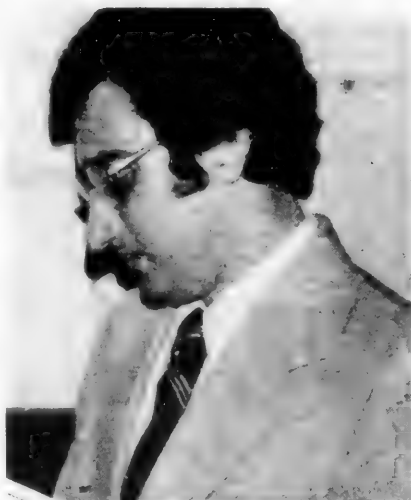

"We had no choice on our valuation techniques under current law," he said. "A lot of people don't seem to understand that."

"But I think very few people will be terribly upset with the final results" when they receive their tax bills in March, he added.

The revaluation firm, PRC Jacobs, has been delayed in returning final results of its assessments and appeals hearings to town officials, forcing the town to mail estimated tax bills this month. But despite his "dissatisfaction" with that delay, Torrisi would not say he is unhappy with the work PRC Jacobs has done.

"The number of appeals hearings they held has no direct relation to the quality of the job done," he said.

The $13.72 million school building program that got off the ground this year is likely to have more "long-term significance" for Andover than revaluation, the acting manager indicated.

Tony Torrisi
Acting Manager

"An auditorium for the high school, a media center for West Junior High, better laboratory facilities — these will mean improved opportunities for education in the town."

During 1981, a special town meeting voted to appropriate an additional $2 million for the school project, bids were awarded and construction began. Work at the three schools is now on schedule for the most part, and planned for completion in September, 1983.

Town meeting also approved a computerized circulation system for Memorial Hall Library that promises to provide greater service to townspeople at less cost over the long run, he added.

Although it is not yet "on line," the library computer is "an excellent example of the direction government should move toward — maintaining existing services with technology and less personnel. The focus has to move toward being more capital-intensive and less labor-intensive," Torrisi said. "We can rely on some advancements to make municipal operations more efficient."

A 1981 town meeting vote in favor of rezoning residential land to industrial to let Digital Equipment Corp. build a third Andover plant shows that many townspeople believe "industrial growth can be balanced with the values we have in the community — but we have to monitor it very carefully."

Andover should now "sit back for a minute and look at where we will be in three years," Torrisi maintained. "We should look at our resources — land, water, roads, sewers — and our demographics, including residential growth, and look at that as the beginning of our comprehensive plan."

Community Development and Planning officials and the Planning Board are looking forward to doing that soon, he said.

And finally, the awarding of a provisional 15-year cable television license to Rollins Cablevision of Atlanta, Ga. ranks as "a very big accomplishment" of the past year, the acting manager said.

Awarding the provisional license was "the beginning of the end of the process," he explained. Once the selectmen award the final license, construction will begin on the town-wide cable system, and cable service should be available throughout Andover by the end of 1982.

Perhaps one of the most exciting aspects of cable television in Andover will be the television studios proposed for community use, tentatively planned to be located at Merrimack College. "This opens up many areas of public and private interest," the acting manager said. "We could put programs on those (community access) lines from business, industry, educational institutions — it's hard to say what the limits are."

For Torrisi himself, the last half of 1981 has been a time of personal growth.

As Finance and Budget director for the past two and one-half years, he has worked mostly within the walls of Town Hall. But as acting town manager, he has been "very accessible" to the public, town employees, department heads, elected and appointed officials, and has "maintained close communications" with the business community, state legislators and, to a lesser extent, federal officials.

"It's been an educational experience, one that's provided me with some insight I don't think I would have gained without it. I think I will miss the opportunity to meet as many people as I have over the past six months — though if I miss it, it will probably be my own fault."

"It's easy to get bogged down at the desk," Torrisi said. "But a conversation can sometimes be more important than pushing a pencil. I hope I don't lose that type of communication."

Finn Won't Seek Re-election

Joseph A. Finn

School Committee Chairman Joseph A. Finn, noting he could not be a part of the devastation which will be wrought on Andover's school system through Prop 2½, announced this week he will not seek re-election at the annual town election in March.

The veteran of six years service on the school committee said that he had given the decision a lot of thought before determining that "it's time to call it quits. I made my contribution to the town and it seems proper that the time has come for someone else to participate in the determination of Andover's educational policies."

Finn said his years on the committee, particularly the latter years, "have been a draining experience both physically and emotionally," adding, "my family has paid the price of my commitment to the town."

The committeeman, reviewing his years of service, said that the first few were dedicated to the improvement of the total educational program and achieving equalization of opportunity throughout the system. This included the implementation of the traditional system at the West elementary school.

Also, Finn noted, was the work toward the school building program now underway and which will result in the upgrading of the town's secondary education facilities.

On the negative side, during his tenure, has been the impact of the four per cent tax cap initiated a few years ago by Gov. King and then the implementation of further budgetary constraints through approval of Proposition 2½ last year.

"This will result in elimination of the equalization we achieved. Many programs will not be funded and I see what was a truly outstanding school system cracking through the devastation which will be brought on by Prop 2½."

"I could not be a party to all of that, so I think it's time to end my service," Finn said.

The chairman said he would continue to work over the next three months to overcome the budgetary problems which he feels will impair the progress of the school system. Absorbing the debt service from the new school construction will be the most difficult to overcome, Finn said.

"With help from the legislature, the townspeople can save the day. Through legislative action, producing home rule decisions, the town can be given the opportunity to decide on our own if we want a good school system and vote to support that action."

"There are a lot of good people in town and I feel confident they will step forward and offer themselves to public service," Finn concluded, expressing his appreciation to the townspeople for the opportunity to serve these past six years.

Short Term Bonding For School Project Continued

The selectmen continued short-term financing of the $13.72 million school building project by signing $1.2 million in bond anticipation notes Monday night.

The notes did not represent additional funding, the acting town manager explained, but a "rollover" of previous notes — that is, an extension on funds borrowed during the summer that were to be paid by Dec. 30. The notes are now due April 15.

The extended notes were in the amounts of $250,000 from the Merrimack Valley Bank, with a 6.89 percent interest rate, and $950,000 from Shawmut Associates, at 6.94 percent.

Earlier in the meeting, Donal Coleman of High Street told the board that selling bonds to permanently fund the project could be speeded up by offering the bonds in $5,000 denominations to townspeople, before offering them to the bond market.

The bonds would be attractive to residents because they are exempt from federal and state taxes, Coleman said.

"You will not get 9.5 percent interest," he said, referring to the interest rate town officials promised 1980 town meeting, and have been hoping to get on the bond market. "And we've wasted enough money on the stupid thing (the school building project) already."

Chairman Norma Gammon said the board would take Coleman's suggestion under advisement, and Edward Harris commented that it was "worth looking into." Donn Byrne said the "concept" was good, but pointed out that the town had planned to offer the bond in one large issue, rather than break it up into smaller issues.

Coleman assured the board that his was "a fantastic idea, in my perfect opinion."

Reilly Obtains Bradlee

After sitting empty and decaying in Ballardvale for the past 20 years, the Bradlee School building is no longer town property — and is about to be given a new lease on life as a multi-family dwelling.

The board of selectmen Monday night signed a deed transferring the school to Francis P. Reilly of Andover, as they were authorized by 1981 annual town meeting. The sale price was $2,900.

A committee that studied proposals for the reuse of the historic school recommended Reilly's to town meeting because he proposed spending thousands to renovate the building and improving the grounds, while retaining the original appearance of the building.

Two developers who competed for the building offered the town more money for it, but did not plan to spend as much to improve the building.

The selectmen recently reviewed and approved Reilly's preliminary plans for renovating the school into ten residential units.

Storage Permit For Digital Is Delayed

A Greenwood Road resident Monday night was granted permission to store gasoline and diesel fuel on his property, but Digital Equipment will have to wait at least one week to receive permission to store propane gas on River Road.

The selectmen approved Arthur Tisbert, Sr.'s request to store 3,000 gallons of gasoline and 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel in two underground storage tanks at 144 Greenwood Road. Tisbert's grandson, Steven, told the selectmen the fuel would be used for trucks, tractors and plows on the Tisberts' farm. That petition was approved by the fire chief.

The fire chief also approved Digital's request to store 8,500 gallons of propane gas in six aboveground storage tanks at 179 River Road, where construction is underway on the former Polaroid building taken over by Digital.

Stan Nordin of Petro Gas Service, supplier to Digital, said the storage would be temporary, since the gas would only be used to heat and ventilate the building during the winter months while construction is underway. When it is completed, the building will be heated with electricity.

However, several abutters argued that the tanks would be "dangerously close" to their homes, and should be moved to another location on the site. Nordin said the proposed site had been chosen by the fire chief as the safest location for the tanks, since it would be out of the way of traffic — therefore minimizing the risk of accidents.

The selectmen voted to delay issuing the Digital permit until the fire chief rules on whether the alternative site suggested by the abutters would be acceptable.

Smoker's Liberation

"We have ways to help you quit smoking," says Marilyn Manies, health educator from Lowell General Hospital's Primary Prevention Center. "Actually, no one can make another person stop smoking. That's a decision that has to be made by the individual."

"But through the Smoker's Liberation Program we will be conducting at Lowell General Hospital, we can make it easier," she continued.

The 4-session, 8-hour program will be held at Lowell General Hospital on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, Jan. 7, 12, 14 and 19, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The program is open to the general public.

Program For Back At YMCA

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will be offering the Y's Way to a Healthy Back Program starting Monday, Jan. 4. The program, designed primarily to relieve back pain, increase flexibility and ease tension, was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, M.D., world-famous back specialist and approved by the Medical Advisory Committee of the YMCA of Greater New York.

The special exercise program which utilizes the Kraus-Weber test to determine minimal muscular strength and flexibility is composed of a series of movements that begins with relaxation, then flexibility, mild muscular strengthening and returning to muscle relaxation techniques.

"More than eighty percent of the participants previously enrolled in our program found relief or complete elimination of back pain," according to Heidi Wolfman certified instructor of the program.

"If you are among the many who complain of back pain and your condition is not caused by organic disease, but by muscles that are weak or tense or both, then the YMCA program may be of significant help to you," stated Mrs. Wolfman.

The six week program will be offered Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8, or Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Registrations are now being accepted at the Andover-North Andover YMCA between the hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For further information on the Y's Way to a Healthy Back program, call Andover-North Andover YMCA, 165 Haverhill Street, Andover.

A New Year

Well, if it isn't that time again!

Hardly have the long-forgotten resolutions of a year ago been relegated to the good intentions category when it is time to resolve all over again.

The dawn of a new year is upon us once again, and whether through age, or simply the times in which we live, this annual exercise in greeting a new year seems to be coming about a bit more rapidly.

And, as we examine what has transpired and observe the challenges of the year ahead, it seems that while we make progress in some area, other problem situations are created thus insuring that while we celebrate the beginning of another year, assuredly there will be matters to attend to once the revelry and the challenge of football bowl overkill is over.

For instance, a year ago this time we were concerned about the hostages in Iran and the turmoil throughout that country.

Today, a year later, our concerns still lie with the Iranian situation, but our apprehensions shift to Poland and the kidnapping of a U.S. General in Italy, along with the Mideast situation, among others.

Here, in our country, there remain efforts to improve the economy, which will require considerable personal sacrifice before things improve. There is continued concern for energy problems and how best to meet them to the satisfaction of all.

In Andover, as throughout the state, there are concerns about how well we can cope with the restraints of Prop 2½ and still have the services to which we have been accustomed in the past.

And, somehow, all of this filters down to effect our personal lives in a variety of ways.

But, to be realistic, a casual moment to think about all of these things, quickly assures that indeed these challenges have been met in the past, and indeed through the time-honored tradition of working together, they will be met again.

The awareness of the problems and the willingness to work toward their solution has somehow always seemed to provide a better world, nation and community.

The underlying principal behind it all is, of course, individual effort.

The making of resolutions at this time of year is well-intended, but too often short-lived and more than likely over-ambitious.

Dedicating ourselves to the theme of peace and love which prevails at this joyous season of the year, would be a challenge we should be able to accept and carry through on an annual basis. A concerted effort in that direction on an individual basis should be appropriate to inspire others to follow.

It is such an easy and simple goal to accomplish, that it should become a firm resolve and assist us as we cast a thankful glance for the year ending and today look optimistically toward 1982.

A Healthy and Happy New Year to all.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — December 1906

Knoxie B and Loring H, two fast horses owned by William H. Higgins, each won a second place in the Christmas races on the Lawrence speedway on Tuesday. The race in which Knoxie B participated was the fastest of the meet, and the winner, Nelma, was exerted to her utmost to win.

Nothing was done at the regular meeting of the Selectmen on Monday in regard to the Lawrence water question as the Board wished to investigate the matter thoroughly and pursue the proper course before taking definite action.

The house of Selectman Samuel H. Bailey was visited by a burglar about four o'clock this morning, but the intruder was frightened away before anything was taken.

The Ballardvale mills company have again voluntarily advanced the wages of their employees five percent, thereby proving their willingness to share with their help the unprecedented prosperity and good times that is everywhere manifest in our country.

Many enjoyed the sport of ice fishing through the ice on the Shawsheen Christmas day, among the most successful being James Saunders and Timothy McCarthy, they securing long strings of perch and pickerel.

50 Years Ago — December 1931

More than 50 motorists have received warning tags from the Andover police for speeding between the Lawrence line and Shawsheen Square since Tuesday afternoon as the result of a drive by the local police to curb speeders and accidents in the vicinity.

The final word was said Tuesday morning in the long battle Andover has waged to have a road built from Baker's turnout to Andover hill when bids for the construction of a three-lane dual type highway were opened at the State House in Boston and Patrick J. Holland of Lawrence was awarded the contract for the work as low bidder. The estimate $104,000 was the amount of the bid. Mr. Holland is the same contractor who built the road from Reading Square to the bypass.

If a period of prolonged cold weather comes, the playground behind Punchard high school will be sprinkled with water so that it may freeze and provide a skating area, according to Charles T. Gilliard, superintendent of the Board of Public Works. In the meantime, adults and youngsters alike have been enjoying ice skating and hockey games at Rabbit's Pond, Pomp's Pond, Foster's Pond and Hussey's Pond, the last offering the best skating in Andover.

An old landmark of Andover has disappeared with the tearing down of the house on the site of the new Post Office on Main, near Chestnut street. This week the building was practically demolished, old-fashioned timbers being brought to light indicating the age of the building to be about 150 years.

25 Years Ago — December 1956

Registered voters of the town can take a giant stride towards sewerage the proposed nuclear fuel research and production plant for West Andover tomorrow at 2 p.m. by attending the special town meeting. Or, if laziness and apathy prevail, voters may find themselves defeating the plant. The meeting had to be summoned quickly to make one simple zoning change.

Snow removal cost $2210 in excess of last year's appropriation and the added amount voted at a special town meeting. BPW Supt. Edward Larsen told board members the bill up to Dec. 31 was $2210.50, with work still going on to clear away the holiday weekend snow. The Finance Committee will be asked to transfer sufficient funds to meet the bills.

Rogers Brook reconstruction is said to be the vital key to the choice of a new site for the Telephone Company here. Thus the BPW has asked the state to give priority to the Central street section of the Brook, which flows beneath Main street. The Telephone Company is reported to be considering several sites for a Colonial-type structure large enough to house dial equipment promised for 1958.

Raymond LaRosa, 90 Maple Ave., has taken out nomination papers for the Board of Public Works. Two seats are at stake this year, with the expiration of the terms of P. LeRoy Wilson and Francis Reilly.

10 Years Ago — December 1971

Town meeting is a New England institution and it has been a part of Andover life since the 1600s, a vital force in its municipal operation. Never, however, has that gathering for the democratic process been more in focus than in the year which will come to a close at midnight Friday. The year 1971 may well become known as the time when this educational community clobbered its school department right in the budget, and put its appetite for new construction on a diet.

If you're feeling just plain lousy, you're in style these days. An outbreak of what laymen call flu, and what medical people just aren't sure what to name, has struck this community and its environs in huge numbers. Many industries and business firms have a high incidence of absenteeism due to the outbreak.

Francis J. Trombly has been granted another month in which to obtain permission from the Boston City Council to run a limousine service from Andover to Logan airport. The decision was made by the selectmen Monday night, continuing a delay in initiating limousine service for local motels to the airport which began last summer.

The sanitary disposal site looked like a dump when Department of Public Works crews opened for business Monday morning. The site was closed Saturday and Sunday, but many residents decided to make use of the area just the same and in violation of the laws, jumped refuse at the gates and over the fence.

Increased Parking Fines Are Payable At Town Hall

A new parking fine statute approved by the selectmen Monday night, in accordance with new state legislation, will increase parking fine fees as of Jan. 1.

In addition to increasing fees from $2 and $3 to $5 and $10, the new statute will also have fines collected in the treasurer's office at Town Hall, rather than at Lawrence District Court.

The new statute is only temporary, however, and will expire June 1, 1982 unless annual town meeting votes to accept the statute next spring.

Licenses Issued

During a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night, the selectmen issued two auctioneer's licenses, and proclaimed a week in January as United Cerebral Palsy Week.

A one-day auctioneer's license was granted to Abdul M. Adam of Westwood, for the sale of oriental rugs 7 to 11 p.m. Jan. 2 at the Sheraton-Rolling Green. And Sheila M. Brody of Crescent Drive, Andover, was issued an auctioneer's license, authorizing her to hold auctions in the town.

The week of Jan. 10-17 was proclaimed United Cerebral Palsy Week by a unanimous vote of the selectmen as well.

Land Gift Accepted

A gift of land has been deeded to the town by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Drake of Salem Street, and the selectmen voted unanimously to accept that gift Monday night.

The land will be managed and controlled by the Conservation Commission, which had already controlled an abutting piece of land. The new acquisition will not, however, give the town complete ownership of a small pond on the property, as was previously reported.

Acting Town Manager Tony Torissi explained that there is still private ownership of some land surrounding the pond.

Paintings On Exhibit

The paintings of Revere artist Robert Crooker will be on display weekdays 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Jan. 8 at American Mutual Insurance Companies.

Robert Crooker is employed as a quality control analyst in the Information Systems and Services Department at American Mutual's Home Office here in Wakefield.

Without town meeting approval, the police chief told the selectmen Monday night, Andover police would be powerless to issue parking tickets and collect fines. The Andover Center Merchants fear that that would lead to parking anarchy on downtown streets, and encourage more Boston commuters to park in Andover all day, Richard Chapell of the center merchants added.

The new fee structure will bring Andover parking fines in line with those in neighboring communities, Chief James Johnson said. Acting Town Manager Tony Torissi said a clerk in the treasurer's office will be assigned to collect the fines.

A group of 16 violations (Group A) will lead to $5 fines, including meter violation, all-night parking in a restricted area, parking in the wrong direction, parking more than 12 inches from the curb, double parking, parking in a bus stop or taxi stand, and obstructing the normal flow of traffic in a municipal parking area.

The $10 fines will be charged for a group of 12 violations (Group B), including parking within a fire lane or crosswalk, parking in front of a private driveway, parking within an intersection, parking to impede snow removal, parking on a sidewalk, and parking in a space designated for handicapped parking.

The fines must be paid within 21 days, or they will be increased up to $20 prior to notice from the Registry of Motor Vehicles, and up to $35 after Registry notice.

For hassle free service, dependable too, Mr. Sweep and his crew will do it for you.

Warriors Capture Sixth Straight Tourney Title

The Andover Golden Warriors took their sixth straight championship title in the seventh annual Greater Lawrence Christmas Basketball Classic this week. In their come from behind victory over Central Catholic, the Warriors were led by co-captain Ted Kelley's 29 points and E.J. Perry's 12 point performances. Perry and co-captain Carmen Scarpa were elected to the tournament's first All-Star team and Kelley was voted the tourney's Most Valuable Player. ## Warrior Icemen Frustrated

These are frustrating times for the Andover High School hockey team. This past week resulted in a tie and two losses. The Golden Warriors' record now stands at 1 - 3 - 1.

Last Wednesday the team traveled to the Billerica High School rink to face a powerful Lowell High squad. The Warrior icemen held on in the first period, but the potent Lowell offense chipped away at the tired Andover crew in the last two periods. Final score: 10 - 2. Dave Tiberii had a goal, as did Co-Capt. Tom Fabiani, on a fine breakaway.

Things were looking better Saturday at Methuen High as the Warriors faced the Greater Lawrence Reggies. After 2 periods the score was 3 - 0, with two goals by Greg Sacco, both assisted by Jay Downey, and a Downey tip-in of a beautiful shot by Bob Leber, who took a pass from Capt. Tim Derby.

Penalties were costly in the third period, however, as the Reggies scored three power play goals. The defense was swamped, but Leber and Derby turned in fine performances. Goalie Barry Moore had an excellent game, turning away 31 shots. Andover had 35 shots on net. Final: 3 - 3.

The Warriors ran into a hot Haverhill goalie Monday night at Methuen, and though they outplayed and outshot the Hillies 35 - 18, they could manage only a lone goal by Fabiani, with an assist to Sacco. Leber had another excellent game, and even though he was fighting the flu, Derby turned in his usual slick performance. Senior Gary Milne also played well. Final: 4 - 1.

There was no lack of spirit, as the Andover cheerleaders provided loud and continuous support for the team.

The warriors play Dracut this week, and then face troublesome Methuen High as Methuen Saturday, Jan. 2 - 7 - 81.

Swimmer In International Meet

Anne Koerckel, a seventh grader at East Jr. High School and a member of Bernal's Gator Swim Club, has received an invitation from the Mexican Government to participate in the third international invitational swimming meet to be held in Mexico City on January 1, 2 and 3, 1982. Anne is the youngest girl to be traveling to Mexico with selected members of Bernal's Gator Swim Club and the Harvard University varsity swim team for this event. Anne has been swimming competitively for 4 years and formerly swam for the Lawrence YWCA Yahoos.

The meet will be held on the site of the 1968 Olympic Games, 1972 Caribbean Games and the 1975 Pan American Games. The Gators are the only team in the East to receive an invitation and one of the few teams from the U.S. Other teams participating include: Cuban National Team, Puerto Rican Olympic Team, Mexican National Team, Florida State University, and other South American Teams.

Anne and other members of the team left Boston on Sunday, Dec. 27, for Mexico. They will spend several days training at Oaxtepec, a government owned sports center near Cuernavaca, as guests of the Mexican government, and will return to Boston on January 4.

Coach Bernal said, "not only is it a great honor for the club and the coaching staff, but a symbol of the progress as a team that we have made over the last few years." The selection of the Harvard U. and Gator teams to participate in this international competition is an indication of the growing popularity and accomplishments of swimming in the East.

Andover Girls Win First Meet

By Kelly Shannon

Last Wednesday, the Andover Girls Indoor Track Team defeated the Methuen girls in an exciting meet. The score was close the entire way, but, by winning the final event, the mile relay, the Andover team finished on top with the score 44-42.

The relay team for Andover consisted of Davynne Williams, Cathie Batson, Amy Lander, and anchorleg Barbara Cullinan and finished in an excellent time at 4:26.3.

Williams also won the 50 yard dash in 6.4 seconds, while Cynthia Surret placed third. In the 300, Cullinan was again victorious, breaking the tape in 40.7 seconds and Lander took second place. Batson captured the 600 in 1:39.1 while teammate Julie Burke followed closely behind. Sally Bickerton won the 1000 in 3:00.1, and Abby Robb placed third.

Others scoring for Andover include: Dayline Divine, second place in the two mile; Mary Hurley, second place in the mile; Pippi Saalfrank, second place in the hurdles; Cynthia Surret third place in the high jump; and Beth Caswell, third place in the shot put.

Coach Arthur Iworsley is looking forward to a promising season as he honestly thinks the girls team can go undefeated. Andovers next meet will be at 6:15 on Monday, January 4, at the Methuen Field House, against the Haverhill Harriers.

Squirt A's Keep Improving

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 31, 1981

Danvers League

Squirt A

Andover 5 - Triton 2

Andover came out flying and never looked back. If it weren't for super goaltending by the Triton netminder, the score could have been 15 to 2.

Andover Outshot

Triton 34 to 8

Andover opened the scoring at 1:28 of the first period when Brent Raftery (assisted by G. Farnham and goalie T. Lane) fired a high shot past the Triton goalie. Although Andover continued to apply heavy pressure, it was not until the end of the period before they could score again. Glenn Farnham scooped up a loose puck and skated around the Triton Defense and fired a low wrist shot past the startled Triton goalie. The period ended with Andover having a decided edge in play but holding a slim 2 to 1 lead.

The second period saw Andover score two more goals and completely dominating play. The newly formed line of D. Sopp, P. McNamara and M. Adams kept Triton pinned in their own end of the ice. Finally, Dukie McNamara and David Sopp set up Matt Adams for the third Andover goal.

Andover's fourth goal was the result of sheer determination. The defense of S. McSweeney and T. Roycroft kept shooting the puck deep into the offensive zone until Glen Driscoll (assists to G. Farnham and B. Raftery) banged in a rebound from the corner of the crease. The line of M. Pothier, M. Tiberii and G. Bleszinski had a number of scoring opportunities, only to be denied by the Triton goalie.

The third period was no different than the first two. With J. Gilmartin, Chip Stella and K. Leng breaking up plays at the blue line, Andover remained in control of the game. Andover's final score was the result of some hard work and a good pass from G. Farnham to B. Raftery who fired in a shot off the goalie's stick.

Andover's goalies, Mike Murnane and Tim Lane had an easy game but made a few nice saves. A tip of the hat to Glenn Farnham who had one goal and three assists.

Non-League

Andover 3 - Newburyport 2

In a non-league encounter Andover and Newburyport faced off at Phillips Academy for a very evenly played game with Andover scoring late in the third period for the win.

This game was full of excitement since both teams had quite a few good scoring chances. Only the good goaltending of M. Murnane and T. Lane allowed Andover to pull this one out.

After a scoreless first period, Newburyport opened the scoring at 40 seconds of the second period. This lead lasted only a couple of minutes before G. Driscoll (assists to G. Farnham and B. Raftery) tied the score. Andover's defense consisting of T. Roycroft, Chip Stella, John Gilmartin, S. McSweeney and K. Leng continued to play well. Late in the period, both teams swapped goals. Newburyport scored first to take a 2 to 1 lead but about one minute later, Andover tied it again. Dukie McNamara, parked in the slot, flipped a rebound from K. Leng's shot, over the Newburyport goalie to even the score at 2.

M. Pothier, D. Bleszinski and M. Tiberii continued to play well but were once again denied by good goaltending.

Finally, with time running out, G. Driscoll scored his second goal of the game when he banged home the rebound of a S. McSweeney shot.

Good passing and hard work rewarded Andover with their second win in four days.

Wilmington League

Squirt A

Andover 2 - Somerville 4

If you watched this game, you would have walked away shaking your head. Andover was by far the better team, dominated play for most of the game, but ended up losing 4 to 2. At the end of two periods, Andover had outshot Somerville 22 to 4 but the score was Somerville 3 Andover 1. Andover's goalies, M. Murnane and T. Lane could not be blamed for the goals, one came on a breakaway and the other two were fluke goals resulting from hitting someone in front of the net.

B. Raftery, G. Farnham and G. Driscoll as well as M. Pothier, G. Bleszinski and M. Tiberii applied constant pressure on their Somerville counterparts. They had numerous scoring chances but either hit the post or missed the net. Andover's first goal was the result of some fine passing by Matt Adams and David Sopp to set up Kenny Leng. Kenny moved in from the point and whistled a low shot into the far corner of the net. Andover's other goal was scored by Dukie McNamara (assist to M. Adams).

Once again, Andover's defense, S. McSweeney, T. Roycroft, Chip Stella and J. Gilmartin played very well.

Andover Brothers Honored

Dana L. Merrill

Midshipman second class Dana L. Merrill of Andover, a junior Marine Engineering major at the Maine Maritime Academy, Castine, Maine, was one of six mariners named to the New England Football Conference (NEFC) All-Star team announced earlier this month. He was selected at one of the offensive tackle spots. His teammate, senior Tom Boothroyd from Middletown, Conn., was selected at the other offensive tackle position.

Merrill, a three-year letterman at his position and one of the biggest men on the Mariners squad this year, was selected a tri-captain to lead the Mariners next season. His play on the right side of Maine Maritime's offensive line, considered one of the best in New England small college play this year, was super and one of the keys to the Mariners being the top offensive team in the NEFC and second in the nation in rushing offense (299.0 yds. per game) in the NCAA Div. III season-end rankings. He was awesome, very strong and adept at moving people around and away from the Mariners' super running backs — a great team player.

His younger brother Reid, a Midshipman third class and a sophomore Marine Engineering major at the Academy, was a two-year varsity performer on the Mariners' team playing at defensive tackle and noseguard. He was awarded his first letter at the recent fall sports banquet. Reid should be one of the mainstays in the mariners defensive line plans next year.

The Merrill's are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L.

Andover 5 - North Andover 7

Andover's offensive game is getting stronger every game, and this one was no exception. But the defense just let down, and with North Andover seeming to have the same kind of trouble, it became a contest of who could score the last goal. Unfortunately, that was North Andover, capitalizing on a good break late in the third period to break a 5-5 tie, and going on to score an empty net goal in the dying seconds to assure the win.

Andover had most of the chances early in the game, but North Andover picked up the opening score on a good breakout play. Then Mike Nelligan picked up a loose puck near the red line and moved it up quickly to Rob Stoltz, who slid a pass over to Dan Hegarty breaking down the right side. Dan rifled off a wrist shot which beat the goalie to tie it up.

Peter Donegan put Andover ahead, picking up a clearing pass inside the zone and maneuvering around a couple of defenders for a good shot.

In the second period, No. Andover tied it up again, but Andover almost immediately pulled ahead with some sharp passing from Hugh Maginnis to Jeff Leonard to Andy Weiner, who flipped in a nice shot from close in. No. Andover pulled even with another score, but Maginnis made a fine rush, and slid a pass in front to Weiner for a quick tip-in and his second goal, to re-establish the lead.

Then No. Andover scored again on a fine power play, and early in the third period, pulled catching the defense off balance again. Maginnis tied it up, taking a good feed in from Chris McAnally to go in alone on the goalie. But then No. Andover picked up their two late goals, to take the win.

Non-League Scrimmage

Andover 4 - Methuen 6

This game looked like a replay of the last one, a see-saw contest with Andover threatening to pull it out, only to be beaten by the tie-breaker and an empty net goal late in the game.

Andover scored the first two goals. The first started with a long pass up from Dan Hegarty to Chris Boyle, who hit Rob Stoltz breaking in between the last two defenders, for a nice move to beat the goalie. And a few minutes later, John Leng moved in from defense to pick up a loose puck and beat the goalie with a shot from the far side of the left circle. Methuen kept on good pressure and came up with three unanswered goals to take the lead before Hegarty got Andover going again, trailing Stoltz on a breakaway and tapping in the blocked effort. This same line picked up their third goal to tie it up again with Hegarty getting off a shot from the corner which was blocked, but Stoltz got off a second try on the rebound, and when that was denied, Boyle tapped it home.

But, as in the last game the opposition kept on the pressure and tied, pulled ahead, and locked up the win with an empty net score.

Wilmington League

Andover 6 - Cambridge 2

The Cambridge squad was much improved from the first game a couple of months ago. They showed improved skating, passing and stick handling, and generally made Andover work a lot harder for this win.

Rob Stoltz got things started with the first of his eventual 4 goals on the day. Mike Nelligan and Dan Hegarty passed the puck back and forth behind the Cambridge net until Rob could get clear in front, then got it up to him for the tally. Within two minutes Doug Bleszinski gave Andover a cushion with an unassisted score, grabbing a loose puck near center ice and turning it into a successful breakaway.

Then Hugh Maginnis and Peter Donegan joined Nelligan and Hegarty for some hard work to kill off a penalty situation. Cambridge kept up the pressure, and late in the period they kept Andover pinned in their own zone for at least a minute and finally put a shot by the beleaguered defense. But near the end of the first period Stoltz came back with his second score, taking a good pass up from Brian Costello, and going in alone on the goalie for a sharp fake and a shot into the corner.

Andover picked up two more goals in the second period, to pretty much put the game out of reach. Chris Boyle, Chris McAnally, Donegan, Maginnis and Bleszinski put on a very impressive and free-wheeling power play, which ended with Donegan taking a Maginnis pass back to the point, walking in and getting off a fine wrist shot which Boyle alertly redirected in as it came through the screen.

The ensuing face off wound up behind the Cambridge net, and Stoltz got the "hat trick" when his centering pass deflected off a Cambridge defender and under a surprised goalie.

Early in the third period, Stoltz finished off Andover's scoring, driving in his fourth goal with assists to Bleszinski and Boyle.

On the forward lines, Danny Iandoli and Lou LoPresi continued to do impressive work at both ends of the ice. And John Leng played his usual steady game at

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham, 122 Chestnut St., Paul is a graduate of Andover High school where he played football under Coach Dick Collins.

Farnham had a fine year for the Bruins with 24 catches for 345 yards and a 14.4 average. He missed the final two games of the season with a knee injury. Paul was also top kickoff return man with 16 returns for an 18.4 average. He is majoring in sociology.

defense, breaking up several Cambridge bids, and turning them into Andover chances. Tim Adams and Ian Anderson looked good in net, and the only scores against them came when the defense let down and they were left unprotected while Cambridge buzzed around the zone unchallenged.

Cambridge kept challenging right to the final buzzer, and in the last few minutes netted their second score, forcing Andover to give up the puck in their own zone.

Moody put Indian Ridge in front 2-1 with Bobby Smith assisting early in the second period. Sean Tetler combined with Mike Alden and Bill Dalton to tie the score at 2-2 at the end of the second period. After Kaleel and Moody lifted Indian Ridge to a 3-2 lead Mike Alden picked up Tetler's rebound and slid it past P. J. McCabe tying the score at 3-3. Moody scored the

Bowne of Boston 2

Indian Ridge Country Club 2

David Abdo tied the score in the second period and Kevin Murphy gave Bowne the lead midway through the third period setting the stage for McCabe's heroics.

Vaughn Is Drive Chairman

January is the month when March of Dimes Coin Canisters are displayed in communities.

The 1982 Chairman for this event in Andover is William Vaughn who has volunteered to assist the Merrimack Valley Chapter-March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation in distributing the canisters. The yellow and green canisters will be located in stores and businesses in Andover.

Research funded by the March of Dimes defeated polio. The present goal is to win the fight against birth defects. Over 250,000 babies are born each year with birth defects.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

REALTOR

PERSONAL OR REAL PROPERTY?

When a home is sold, the question often arises: "What stays with the house as part of the purchase and what property goes with the buyer?" Real estate is usually defined as the land and everything attached to it, such as: buildings, trees, shrubs, etc. The buyer normally gets all of the real estate, but none of the owner's personal property. The problem arises when personal property has become a part of the real estate. This is called a fixture and does pass with the real estate.

There are three usual test which must be satisfied. Has the personal property been permanently annexed to the real estate? And finally, what is the local custom? Usual fixtures might include: shades, heaters, ranges, screens, storm windows, lightning fixtures, etc.

It is important that the seller spell out specifically in his sales agreement exactly what he intends to give to the buyer as part of the real estate.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

have more negative impact than others."

While working with Proposition 2½ will be harder this year than it was last year ("That's not just Andover, that's true for everyone"), the year-old law has had some "positive benefits," Torrissi pointed out.

Looking for ways to "improve the delivery of public services" while cutting department budgets has prompted town officials and staffers to "eliminate waste we lived with before," the acting manager said.

And increasing user fees for municipal services like water and sewer "has merit because it recognizes that use of those services is discretionary," Torrissi added. "If you don't use them equally, you don't share equally in the burden."

This may be the year the town refines and implements the central maintenance concept, an idea that has been "kicked around" for nearly two years, he said. Why does Andover need "a well thought-out approach to taking care of our buildings?"

"It's not just economics," Torrissi explained — although in most cases, improving building maintenance would cut operating expenses. "It's also a matter of aesthetic value. There's a lot of tradition in this community — a lot of value is placed on buildings like Town Hall, Pynchard High School, the library.

"We should look toward coming up with a rational, logical way to take care of these buildings, rather than replace them once they've deteriorated."

Nostalgia Program For Club

The November Club will meet at 1:15 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 4. The ladies greeting the members and guests will be Mrs. James E. Parsons and Mrs. Linwood B. Hilton. The pourers are to be Mrs. Robert E. Lampe and Mrs. Winston A. Blake.

Early in 1982, townspeople may be asked to vote on saving the two wings of East Junior High that will not be used as part of the new Doherty Junior High (the Memorial Auditorium wing will be part of the converted school). That decision will be a "top priority" item because it could effect other town buildings, he said.

"East Junior High could have an impact on many other areas — on the downtown area, Town Hall, the theatre building." A committee currently studying possible uses for the EJH wings could propose moving all town and school offices into them, Torrissi indicated.

Continued growth has led to the need for "some major capital expenses": larger police and fire department staffs, as well as a larger public safety center; larger facilities at Memorial Hall Library; a new Riverina Road sewage pumping station.

None are very likely to become reality during the coming year, not even the $8 million pumping station that has been on the drawing board for some time, and will be funded with state and federal money.

"Nothing will happen until there is a federal decision on waste water grants," the acting manager explained. "The money's not there right now." The state is, however, "solidly behind us, and moving us up on the priority list," he added.

Planning for the future done a decade ago is saving Andover from the serious water shortages now facing a number of neighboring communities, he noted.

"Andover is fortunate to have a very good water system and supply. Town officials acted with a lot of foresight in the early seventies to move ahead with the water treatment plant."
